

FREIGHT FORWARDING

TRANSLOADING

Simplify, consolidate and save with Livingston.

Freight Forwarding

Transloading

Give your shipments the flexibility Livingston's Transloading solution offers.

Goods, whether raw or finished, rarely travel directly from their source to the end-user using a single mode of transportation. Often, they are transferred from one mode of transport – ocean, rail, air or truck – to another. Transloading is an option that can save you time and money, help you solve challenges, and make the most of opportunities, as they arise.

Count on our facilities and expertise

Livingston's Transloading solution includes coordinating truck and rail connections, managing inventory, and facilitating storage and delivery. Our state-of-the-art facilities are designed to minimize handling and thereby reduce the risk of damage.

Our solution offers a number of value-add services, including:

- Storage
- Blending
- Packaging
- Consolidated invoicing
- Combined product shipments
- Bar-coding
- Labeling
- Load optimization

More time to make the right routing decisions

Transloading gives you extra time to decide where your shipment ultimately needs to go. For example, say you're Choose Livingston's Transloading solution to reduce your fuel and inventory costs, and improve efficiency.

Transloading lets you:

- Replenish inventories in a hurry
- Keep transportation costs down
- Speed up turnover
- Reduce inventory costs bringing a shipment of snow shovels into the central U.S. It's early March, but, uh-oh, warm breezes are blowing over the Midwest and pavements are dry. Meanwhile cold winds and blizzard conditions have buried the Eastern Seaboard under several feet of snow. Without Transloading, diverting a shipment becomes harder and more expensive, and not just because U.S. Customs doesn't like you amending your importation paperwork. With Transloading, you have the option simply to reroute those shovels where they're needed.

TRANSLOADING

Transloading can save you time and money. Livingston consolidates shipments from multiple suppliers and coordinates truck and rail connections to optimize load size and delivery times to your distribution center or your customer's door. With flexible transportation options, you can ship varying quantities to a wider variety of locations, allowing you to meet changing market demands.

Livingston 3PL saves you money and worry

Combined with our comprehensive Third Party Logistics (3PL) services, including fulfillment, pick and pack, and other customer-driven services, Livingston offers:

Reduced handling costs when you take advantage of a single facility for all service functions.

A single point of contact from order placement to ultimate delivery.

Multiple regional locations to serve you coast to coast.

Contact Livingston today!

Have questions?

Contact your account executive.

Write to us at: simplify@livingstonintl.com or give us a call at 1-800-837-1063